

Student Activities

Weatherford College believes in the value of extracurricular experiences as a means of helping students to develop a sense of civic responsibility, social poise, friendliness, initiative, and inventiveness. WC gives serious attention to sponsoring such activities and organizations that will contribute to these and other worthy goals. To participate in extracurricular organizations and activities sponsored by the college, students must be in good standing. To hold an office in an organization, students must be enrolled for at least twelve semester hours and maintain at least a "C" average. Certain organizations and activities may require more stringent standards.
